

Think Evolution VIII

A Summer Institute for Science Educators

Calling all middle school, high school, and community college biology teachers and science educators!

Put on your evolution eyeglasses and your nature of science thinking cap and join us for (yet another) fun-filled five days of evolutionary explorations with biologists and educators at the University of California. The Think Evolution Summer Institute, returning for its eighth year, will combine lectures by prominent evolutionary biologists with sessions focused on hands-on activities for the middle school, high school, and community college classroom. We are still putting together the program but for now, hold the dates!

Monday, July 25 to Friday, July 29

9:00 AM–3:00 PM at the University of California
Museum of Paleontology

$75.00 for five days

Lots of free resources distributed to participating teachers plus morning and afternoon snacks!

Limited enrollment, so for further information, contact Lisa White (ldwhite@berkeley.edu) or Louise S. Mead (lsmead@msu.edu)
